

Elacin ER20 XS

The Elacin ER20 XS earplugs are ideal for occasional use, offering more comfort compared to traditional disposable or pre-shaped earplugs. While not custom-made, they provide effective hearing protection for a variety of everyday activities.

With a discreet fit in the ear canal, the ER20 XS earplugs have no protruding parts, unlike the ER20 small and medium models or other similar products on the market. This makes them especially comfortable to wear under headphones. A small, flexible grip makes it easy to insert and remove them, offering simple and convenient use.

The Elacin ER20 XS is a great step for those looking to move from standard earplugs to custom-made options, offering a comfortable fit and clear sound.

Material + Colour

The earplugs feature soft silicone tips for a comfortable and secure fit in the ear, while the filter is made from a more durable material. Each pair comes with a neck cord for added convenience.

The ER20 XS earplugs are available in a subtle grey, designed to be both discreet and unobtrusive.

Filter

The ER20 XS earplugs feature a durable acoustic filter that reduces noise while preserving sound clarity. Made from high-quality materials, the filter provides consistent noise reduction across frequencies. Their discreet, low-profile design ensures a comfortable fit and effective protection in various environments.
